What is the Academy of Distinguished Former Students?

The External Advisory & Development Council of the College of Science established the Academy in October 1996 to recognize former students who bring honor to their professions through outstanding leadership in mathematics, the sciences, and medicine.

The Academy, which named its first three honorees in spring 1997, now boasts 36 distinguished members representing diverse accomplishments and coming from as far as Japan.

Awards are presented at the College's annual Spring Recognition and Awards Dinner. The names of the honorees are permanently displayed on a master plaque in the Dean's Office.

Photographs and a news release are submitted to the Division of Marketing and Communications for distribution to the honorees' hometown newspapers.

Who is Eligible?

All outstanding former students of the College of Science.

(The EADC changed the title from "Academy of Distinguished Graduates" to "Academy of Distinguished Former Students" in spring 2003 to encompass former students whose degree plans were interrupted by military service or who were accepted to medical or dental school after three years of undergraduate study.)

Selection

The Dean of the College of Science will appoint a selection committee to recommend up to three recipients a year. If the committee determines that there are no qualified candidates, it can choose to recommend no one.

Nominations go to the Dean of the College of Science for final approval.

Nominations are held in confidence; only finalists will be notified by the Dean of Science.

How to Nominate a Candidate

Nominations for 2010 must be submitted by January 15 and must include:

- Cover letter
- A one-page citation outlining a nominee's accomplishments, including contributions to the programs and activities of the College of Science, technical accomplishments, special honors, and contributions to his or her profession or to the education of others in the field

- Up to five letters of support
- Vita or resume of the nominee
- Photograph (will be returned)

*Submissions from faculty or staff of the College of Science must also include a cover letter from the appropriate department head transmitting nominations through the Director of Development to the Dean of the College of Science.
